All Keynote (& PowerPoint) Versions Aren't Created Equal

There may be design discrepancies based on different software versions, please adjust your deck accordingly. For your reference, I've included a PDF of what the slides look like for me.

Install The Included Fonts On Your Computer

The fonts used in this template aren't standard use fonts. Install the fonts (from the "Fonts" folder) to ensure that your template looks like mine. Once the fonts are installed, reopen the template. I've also included download links to the fonts later in the deck, just in case the included fonts don't work.

A little note from me to you

This is a guide, you don't have to follow it exactly.

Adjust font sizes based on your deck and content.

Play with different fonts, background colors, images and icons.

Experiment with graphic elements. If there's one that you like, use it on other slides.

Link to sources you used. If you're posting your deck on SlideShare, keep the links in center of the slide. SlideShare deactivates links on the far left and right sides due to their built-in "go to the next slide" feature.

If you don’t have the fonts, install them first.

The main (body) font is Helvetica Neue. It comes in the standard Mac iOS X v10.6 and after. If you don’t have it, it’s included in the “Fonts” folder.

The second font used in the presentation is Garamond. If the included font doesn’t work, download it free from FontSquirrel here.
